I. Five Acres has provided 130 years of service providing assistance and care for vulnerable children and their families. Specialist Escareno will discuss Mental Health Services at Five Acres for Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing persons within LA County: Recognizing Depression, Suicide Ideation, and Trauma. Due to event that are out of control, the COD is working with the presenter to reschedule.

II. With 75 years of experience, Didi Hirsch Mental Health Services is dedicated to providing quality mental health care and substance use treatment in communities where stigma or poverty limit access. Approximately 9.8 million people within the United States are having suicidal thoughts each year and losing approximately 44 thousand people every year to suicide. Out of the 44 thousand, 50% of are not receiving any sort of professional care. People are not only dealing with mental health stressors, like, are depression, anxiety, bipolar disorder, schizophrenia, but in daily lives have incredible amount of stressor and... expectations. When it comes to those stressors, they include disabilities because those are some of the things that make the day to day lives pretty stressful sometimes. Didi Hirsch Mental Health Services have a 24/7 crisis line, several programs for SOS (survivors of suicide attempts) that offer some additional community and additional support, SAS (survivors after suicide) for family members or communities that have already been impacted by a loss, helping communities to cope with the stressors that our day to day lives bring, and providing a little bit of community and some of these support groups.

III. National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), Brittney Weissman, Executive Director. NAMI is the nation’s largest grassroots mental health organization dedicated to improving the lives of individuals and families affected by mental illness. They offer free services in English and Spanish for law enforcement, community groups, school personnel/administration, and junior and high school students. Generally, one in five person deal with mental issue including bipolar, schizophrenia, and major depression. In Los Angeles about 40 thousand deal with schizophrenia, and 120 thousand people suffer from depression and another 800 thousand suffer with an anxiety disorder. In L.A. there are 12 chapters to the National Alliance on Mental Illness and each chapter offer a services at no cost to the public. Some of the service they have are evidence based programs to teach the public how to identify signs and symptoms of mental illness, speakers that go out to talk about their journey from a dark rough spot in their life where feelings of out of control to a period of in control, offer a variety of services in place of worship, employment, and work with City and County to making sure the people with mental illness get treatment.
